

Plant for me an Apple Tree

1. A ploughboy laid his plough aside
And took a sword in hand
And went to fight for Empire's cause In a far and foreign land refrain:

An apple tree, an apple tree
Plant for me an apple tree
Apple tree, an apple tree..
O plant for me an apple tree

2. A reaper hung her scythe upon
A hook, up on the wall
And laid her hand upon her bow
To answer Empire's call etc.

3. For many seasons, far and wide
They battled on together They felled their foes and licked their wounds
And slept out in the heather
etc

4. Over hill and through the wood
They fought throughout the land Til finally they met their end Together, hand in hand
etc

5. He took a wound, both wide and deep
It struck right through his heart And hers it matched it, stroke for stroke
And never will they part
etc

6. We brought the lovers home at last O'er hill and fell and marshes
And dug for them a single grive
At Applewood in't Marches
etc

7. Two trees were planted side by side
The stems they grew together
They grow there in the appleyard Together now forever
etc
