

Sunrise

Sing all ye joyful now sing ye together
The doubt of future foes will come now not ever
The merry are dancing the children play in heather
The river is flowing with love and joy forever

We will not be parted never broken hearted

This is the melody of victory today
Hopeful and happy we must be on our way
This is the melody of mortal bliss and light
Sunrise will vanquish all eternal night

Dance happy people and join with this glory
We are as one and this is our story
What of our sorrows when we were in torment
Now we are blissful and misery is dormant

We will not be parted never broken hearted

This is the melody of victory today
Hopeful and happy we must be on our way
This is the melody of mortal bliss and light
Sunrise will vanquish all eternal night

Dance happy people and join with this glory
We are as one and this is our story
What of our sorrows when we were in torment
Now we are blissful and misery is dormant
